In, against and beyond International Relations: Disciplinary investigations and interventions

Friday, 19 June 2020 14:30 (1h 30m)

These papers take the discipline of International Relations (IR) and its traditional concerns as their object of study. Examining issues such as coloniality, epistemic violence, Eurocentrism, diversity and essentialism, these papers offer disciplinary interventions both within and against the history. practice and theorisation of IR.
