

Contribution ID: 816

Type: Panel

Re-imagining Nuclear History & Politics

Friday, 19 June 2020 10:00 (1h 30m)

This panel revisits our understanding of key dynamics in nuclear history and politics through examining the political significance of the mythologised story of the US Manhattan Project, the role of popular culture in contributing to narratives of nuclear 'control', how memory of combat experience can impact nuclear choices and finally how domestic politics can reframe our understanding of India's nuclear policy.

Track Classification: Global Nuclear Order Working Group