

Contribution ID: 864

Type: not specified

International Gendered Politics of the Family

Friday, 17 June 2022 09:00 (1h 30m)

The family is an important conceptual and lived construction with relevance to a wide range of international political concerns. This panel brings together papers interrogating the 'family' and family members in issues as diverse as the colonial legacy of IR, the Covid pandemic, wartime violence and rape, and the military.

Track Classification: Gendering International Relations Working Group