Global Defence Policy and Practice.

Friday, 17 June 2022 13:15 (1h 30m)

This panel of international scholars brings to our attention some of the most important issues in global defence policy and practice. Attendees will leave this panel with a better understanding of defence reforms in India, Japan and South Korea, along with new understandings of the challenges faced by Women in security forces and how armed forces around the globe are increasingly investing in education focused defence engagement programs.
