

Contribution ID: 1284

Type: not specified

Human and state security in Africa

Wednesday, 21 June 2023 16:45 (1h 30m)

This panel showcases new topics and approaches to human and state security in Africa. Its papers rethink ontological security through the example of conflict in Cameroon, critically examine multilateral conflict management in the Sahel, and assess the influence of Covid-19 and Portuguese colonial legacies on human security today.

Track Classification: Africa and International Studies Working Group