Security from the local to the global: Promoting peace, security and human rights

Thursday, 22 June 2023 16:45 (1h 30m)

This panel examines complex problems of security at the local and global levels. Papers consider how sustainable, long-term peace and security can be built; explore ethical concerns of post-conflict security building; problematise the way security is used to justify policy; and consider different actors and themes under the security umbrella.

Track Classification: Political Violence, Conflict and Transnational Activism
