Thursday, 22 June 2023 13:15 (1h 30m)

Securitization as threat formation and management process is utilized for different reasons by diverging actors across space. The panel looks at visual configurations of power and political construction of sight and practices; how to make use of cultural knowledge in strategy to counter an insurgency; how and why securitization of ethnic minorities, as well as animal rights and environmental groups and organizations in different cultural contexts are constructed; how the securitization as a process and policy could be better understood.
