Troubling the domestic and the international in South East Europe

Friday, 7 June 2024 15:00 (1h 30m)

The papers in this panel creatively and in a nuanced manner take on the multiple scales of practice and analysis in SEE. Examining the complex relationship between the domestic and the international, the panellists will focus on themes like peace, symbolic power, ontological security, and economic voting patterns. Employing diverse methods and approaches, the panel contributes to the larger project of rethinking International Relations in and from SEE.
