

Contribution ID: 1697

Type: not specified

'Whose climate justice: ecofeminist researchers want to know'

Friday, 7 June 2024 10:45 (1h 30m)

The theme for BISA 2024 is 'Whose International Studies'. Reflecting on this question as eco/feminist researchers of climate politics, this panel asks what climate justice looks like from different global and social positions.

Climate justice is an idea and a fight that is researched, written about, and used as a rallying cry globally. This panel asks what eco/feminist researchers have to say and contribute to this conversation, with contributions that cover decolonial degrowth, land rights, gender-just finance, care and mothering, and masculinities.

Track Classification: Environment Working Group