Stigma and Discourse in Nuclear Politics

Friday, 20 June 2025 13:15 (1h 30m)

This panel explores the interplay of stigma, discourse, and strategic behavior in nuclear politics, examining how states navigate nuclear norms and perceptions. Through case studies ranging from India, Germany, and Iran to US nuclear policy under Trump, the panel investigates themes of deterrence, corrective behavior, the absence of apology, and the balance between principle and pragmatism in nuclear diplomacy
