

Contribution ID: 2051 Contribution code: TH 19

Type: Panel

The ICC and Hybrid Courts: Processes of International Criminal Law

Thursday, 19 June 2025 10:45 (1h 30m)

The panel investigates patterns and processes in the work of the ICC and of different hybrid courts that blend international and national elements, such as the Extraordinary Chambers in the Courts of Cambodia. The panel examines the ways in which the ICC is effectively part of a network of international judicial activity involving institutions and practices of different kinds - a nexus rather than a pinnacle.

Track Classification: International Law and Politics Working Group