Norms, Politics and Law: Processes, Intentions and Impacts

Friday, 20 June 2025 10:45 (1h 30m)

The panel reviews the formation and transmission of norms relations to human rights, armed conflict and international law and standards. It examines the patterns and processes by which norms are transmitted and the ways in which they make a difference, considering intentions, at one end of the process, and impacts, at the other.
