Contested Currents: Water Rights and Water Injustice

Wednesday 3 June 2026 09:00 (1h 30m)

This panel interrogates the contestation around the politics of water, its governance and the relationship to structural injustices. It brings together scholars for whom water is a prism through which existing political structures and inequalities can be studied and via which we can understand not just the implications for governance, but the political contestation around bodies of water.
