'From Technosystems to Cosmotechnics: Thinking security politics among the machines"

Wednesday 3 June 2026 13:15 (1h 30m)

This panel draws together a range of new and emerging ways to thinking and analysing security politics and practice that draw on different relational ontologies, Science and Technology Studies, and indigenous cosmologies. Each paper foregrounds new ways of thinking technology and technological practices ranging from weapons, drones, infrastructures, AI, surveillance practices etc. Collectively the conversation will unpack and generate new conversations on security and technology.
