Rebels, Insurgents and Non-State Actor Conflict

Thursday 4 June 2026 13:15 (1h 30m)

This panel examines how rebels, insurgents, and other non-state armed groups shape the dynamics of conflict across different regions and historical moments. The papers explore how these actors govern, adapt, and endure, as well as how airpower, organizational change, and external intervention affect their trajectories. Together they offer a wide perspective on the strategies, pressures, and environments that define non-state warfare.
