British
International
Studies
Association

Contribution ID: 518   Type: not specified

The Visual, Visible and Virtual Politics of Security

Tuesday, 22 June 2021 11:00 (1h 30m)

This panel brings together researchers working at the nexus of security practices and their representations in popular culture. With areas of focus ranging across drone warfare, cyberspace, and national security, and through engagement with resources including memoires and television shows, the panel will present new ways of engaging with the politics of security.

Track Classification: Post-Structural Politics Working Group